HR Payroll & Services Lead (m/f/d)

About YAGEO Nexensos

We are the experts for reliable temperature sensors, even at extreme temperatures and in demanding applications. As the global market leader for platinum thin-film technologies, we offer sensor elements and assemblies with the highest quality standards from -200 °C to +1,000 °C. We enable reliable and sustainable applications and thus make an important contribution to key issues of our time, such as clean air, energy efficiency and resource conservation. We support our customers from rapid prototyping to large-scale production and with constantly adapted production capacities in Europe and Asia.

What you can expect:

- In your role as "HR Payroll & Services Lead (m/f/d)" you will be responsible for the monthly payroll accounting in cooperation with our external payroll providers for all legal entities in Germany (currently four different legal entities).
- You take on the role of payroll expert for Germany and are the first point of contact for all payroll-related issues.
- You provide active support during tax audits in the payroll area.
- Checking the payment amounts is more than just routine for you; you ensure accuracy based on accurately recorded data from the HR systems (Successfactors, SAP, Loga).
- You will also be responsible for payroll and compensation & benefits projects.
- You are also the contact person for global mobility and the company pension scheme.
- The assumption of the technical management for all HR Admin topics, such as certificates, employment contracts, references rounds off your job profile.

What you bring with you:

- You have successfully completed a degree in business administration or a comparable commercial apprenticeship, ideally with an additional payroll qualification.
- Several years of experience in payroll accounting and personnel administration, preferably in a corporate environment
- Confident use of common MS Office programs, especially Excel
- Ideally, you have knowledge of SAP, SuccessFactors and LOGA
- You have a very good command of written and spoken German and English
- Working in a team is very important to you at the same time, working independently is a matter of course for you
- Proactive, customer-oriented and professional demeanor
- You have the ability to plan, organize and prioritize tasks effectively
- A high sense of responsibility is a matter of course for you
